The Universitätskolleg invites you to send in your recipes and accompanying images for a collaborative University Cook Book. It's a great opportunity to get together with friends, try out some new dishes, and have fun visualizing your culinary results and experiences!

Whether it's a time-honored family recipe, one you whipped up just for this competition, your secret formula against exam stress, or your crossover-creation that unites all specialties of your multicultural flatshare kitchen. Or perhaps it is a sustainable, "zero-waste" recipe, a birthday cake masterpiece, or your freezer-to-plate student digs special. Chop, stir, cook, take pictures, and share your personal stories, culinary ideas, and favorite flavors with your fellow students in the University Cook Book!
